

David Cherry with Mercy Ships, Texas

David is one of two missionaries who were at Crossroads Fellowship when it was begun in 1988. One year later he became one of our missionaries with YWAM working with students. When Mercy Ships was spun out of YWAM David felt called to join this ministry. Mercy Ships uses hospital ships to travel to the “poorest of the poor” nations to provide free medical care, community development and share the love and truth of the Lord Jesus Christ. He has served with Mercy Ships since 2001 in various roles but typically it has been in training, community development and administration areas.

After 8 years serving in Africa on the Mercy Ships hospital ships, he has returned to the corporate headquarters in Texas, where he is working as an Administrative Assistant in the Marine Operations Department. This department oversees the operation, maintenance, safety and certification of the ships. With Mercy Ships' current construction of a new hospital ship in process, David is excited about the challenges that will surround his department as that ship is eventually completed and serving the poor in Africa.
